後來怎麼樣了，我已經不記得，因為那是六年以前的事了。只記得，從那以後，到今天，每天早晨我都是等待著校工開大鐵柵校門的學生之一。冬天的清晨站在校門前，戴著露出五個手指頭的那種手套，舉了一塊熱乎乎的烤白薯在吃著。夏天的早晨站在校門前，手裡舉著從花池裡摘下的玉簪花，送給親愛的韓老師(Ms. Han)，她教我跳舞。

啊！這樣的早晨，一年年都過去了，今天是最後一天在這學校啦！

I could not remember how it ended because that happened six years ago. I can only remember that since then, I have been one of the students who waited for the janitor to open the large iron gate of the school. In winter mornings, I stood in front of the school gate, wearing gloves with my fingers revealed and holding a hot sweet potato and eating it. In summer mornings, I stood in front of the school gate, holding hosta flowers which I picked from our flower pond. I would give them to Ms. Han who taught me dancing.

Alas, the same morning passed year after year. Finally, today is my last day in school.
