1141117 社會人士中翻英短文翻譯參考答案

Sustainable living involves the clothes on our bodies. While we might be tempted to buy low-priced, fashionable clothes, these tend to fall apart easily and end up in landfills when we toss them out. Dyes and toxic chemicals used in fast fashion can also pollute our waters. Invest in a few pieces of quality clothes. They might cost more, but they'll last longer. Living sustainably is about buying less, using less, and wasting less. If you can do these things, then you're on your way to creating a better future for everyone.
