Christmas is celebrated differently all over the world. Some traditions are the same, such as Christmas trees, but others are special in the countries. For example, in England, people go from house to house, singing Christmas songs and they can get hot pies as gifts. In Italy, children get their Christmas gifts until January 6th. These presents are brought by a good witch rather than Santa Claus. But in Swiss, people get gifts from a girl-angel, and in Spain, from three wise men. In Australia, people have barbecues and sprinkle fake snow on windows because Christmas comes in summer. Even though there are different traditions in different countries, the meaning of Christmas is the same. That is love and kindness to all.
