Camping is a fun activity for families and friends. Camping makes people get far away from the noise and city and just relax. At night, after it is dark, all the campers sit around the campfire, eat delicious food, sing songs, and tell scary stories. It is always a lot of fun. Sometimes, people forget to put out their campfires when they leave and go back to the city. This is very dangerous. A campfire burning will start a forest fire. Campfires can be fun, but it is important to enjoy them safely. Before leaving, campers should pour water over the fire. This is a safe and important way to camp outdoors.
